Up in smoke

Dr. Lucio Gelmini is a man on a mission. As a volunteer with the Alberta Science Network, he travels throughout the Edmonton area, gives presentations and demonstrations on chemistry to students of all ages. His goal is to get kids excited about science and show them that learning can be fun. Last week, Redwater School was lucky enough to host Dr. Gelmini for one of his presentations. He followed that up with a series of other fun and exciting experiments, all while explaining the science behind what was happening. By the end of the presentation, the students were engaged and excited about learning more about chemistry.

The indoor arena in Waskatenau reduces the fees

By Irene van der Kloet

With winter coming, many horse riders are looking at the weather before deciding to go for a ride. A little snow may not be much of an issue, but once the snow turns into ice, or the temperatures drop considerably, going out for a ride is no longer an option. The arena in Waskatenau offers an opportunity to ride indoors. This indoor arena, which is 85 x 185 feet, is heated and insulated, offering a good alternative for an outdoor ride. There is plenty of parking space around the arena. The Victoria Trail Agricultural Society operates the facility. The Society received feedback from the community and decided to offer a "special" this year by reducing the annual individual membership fee from $400 to $290, a substantive reduction. The family membership fee is reduced from $500 to $390. This is a new one-year trial membership. In 2023 the price will be evaluated to see if it will be continued. Although it seems a substantial amount in these expensive times, the hourly fee is $30, so an individual wanting to use the arena regularly would have their membership fee paid back after almost ten times. Over the course of our long winters, one would probably be cheaper off buying a membership than paying per individual hour. A similar calculation applies to families. Though arena

FIREFIIGHTERS COMPLETE NFPA 1001 TRAINING

Thorhild County Emergency Services is proud to announce that on October 29, 2022, ten Thorhild County Emergency Services members completed their National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) 1001 Level 1 provincial testing at the Athabasca County Training Centre. This was the final component of a curriculum spanning over eight months of regimented training.

The NFPA 1001 is an international standard designed to be the minimum requirement for firefighters to ensure they are knowledgeable, competent, and safe during fireground operations. The course covered topics such as communications, building construction, ladder operations, hose, and water stream operations, fire behaviour, forceable entry, search and rescue, tactical ventilation, overhaul, and personal protective equipment. The members gave up multiple nights a week and several weekends over the course of the eight months to complete all the theory and practical skills required.

The next step for these members is to receive training and subsequent certification in NFPA 1072 Hazmat Operations level to become fully certified IFSAC/Proboard firefighters.

Thorhild County Emergency Services wish to thank Captain Krysta Bentley for her unwavering dedication and leadership to the program, members of the Gibbons Fire Department who assisted with evaluation days, Athabasca County Fire Services for the use of their certified training centre, Thorhild County Council for their support of the firefighter training program, and to all citizens of Thorhild County who stand by their Emergency Services team.

Remembering fallen heroes

By Myrina Carter

Every year on November 11, Canadians will pause for a two-minute moment of silence while many host memorials for the community to attend. They allow people to honour and remember the women and men who have served and continue to serve our country. They have served Canada during times of war, conflict, and peace. At the opening and closing ceremonies, many veterans, members of the armed forces, RCMP officers, and cadets can be seen marching at the memorial, led by a pipe band. By remembering these soldiers' service and sacrifice, we recognize the tradition of freedom these men and women fought to preserve. They truly believed their actions in the present would make a significant difference in the future, but we must ensure that their dream of peace is acknowledged.

The focus of the Royal Canadian Legion is to serve and help veterans, including military, RCMP members, in and around our communities. Many people in different districts will see the members of the Royal Canadian Legion members volunteering their time and selling poppies a few weeks before Remembrance Day. The poppy is a symbol of Remembrance Day, and the money raised goes towards assisting Veterans and their families.

The Redwater Royal Canadian Legion Branch 251 is inviting everyone to a Remembrance Day service on November 11, 2022, at 4708 50 Avenue. The outdoor service begins at 10:45 a.m. and includes coffee and donuts inside and after the service. The Legion will also be hosting a roast beef dinner from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., which is first come, first serve. Along with the dinner, the Legion will also be raffling off a 55-inch television. Come together while we remember and honour the heroes who fought for our freedom.

Remembrance Day Ceremony

Corporals Suitor and Holmes from CFB Edmonton visited classrooms and answered questions after the Remembrance Day Ceremony at Ochre Park.

Emmalee Hadden and Mason Anaka presented the wreath for their class.

Grade two students at Ochre Park performed during the Remembrance Day Ceremony.

The roles of the three branches of the Canadian Armed Forces

Each November, individuals across Canada honor and recognize the service and sacrifices of members of the Canadian Armed Forces. Remembrance Day is celebrated in Canada every year on November 11, making the month of November an ideal time to learn about each of the three branches of the country's armed forces.

The Royal Canadian Navy

The Royal Canadian Navy (RCN) is tasked with protecting Canadian sovereignty at sea, at home and abroad. Sailors in the RCN also provide peacekeeping services and humanitarian aid and prevent illegal activities from happening at sea. According to the Government of Canada, the RCN is made up of approximately 8,400

Regular Force personnel. An additional 4,100 Reservists and 3,800 civilians serve in the RCN.

The Canadian Army

The Canadian Army is the land component of the Canadian Armed Forces. The Army consists of full-time Regular soldiers, part-time Reservists who serve in communities across Canada and Canadian Rangers from remote locations in Canada. The Government of Canada notes that the Army Reserve is a part-time component of the Canadian Army that deploys members both at home and abroad. With roughly 21,500 members, Reservists make up nearly as large a force as the Regular Force (22,500 members), and an additional 3,500 civilian employees serve in support of the Army.

Royal Canadian Air Force

Working in partnership with the United States, the Royal Canadian Air Force (RCAF) defends and protects Canadian and North American airspace. The RCAF flies a large inventory of aircraft, which the Government of Canada notes includes a significant amount of new or completely modernized aircraft. The RCAF serves in both peacetime and during times of conflict. The Canadian Armed Forces serve a variety of functions, protecting Canadians, Canadian interests and even foreign citizens both at home and abroad. Remembrance Day marks the perfect time to celebrate and honor the Canadian Armed Forces.

Proud soldiers on the field lay, Not World Wars, but here today, Fighting unknown terror.
 The past should have taught us well. That weapons fired bring only Hell, and there are no winners.
 Young lives cut short, no more to be a nation helped and set free by those who think it's right.
 Desert heat and blinding sand, ruined structures on the land, a country devastated.
 Remember World Wars One and Two but also think of those who do the battles today.
 We thank all Veterans for their choice, and perhaps one day we will rejoice, the world at peace.
 Bow your head if you should hear a trumpet sounding the Last Post and Remember who sacrificed the most.

stay-at-home mom, and she has a love for crafting, turning her passion into a growing home business. Deveau created the H2H Designs online store in 2018, widening the company's horizons and reaching customer orders across Canada and the United States.

Deveau said, "I originally called it Heart to Home Designs because I love to create each order from my heart to my customer's home. Over the years, it has been abbreviated to H2H Designs, but still carries the same meaning."

H2H Designs started out with craft workshops, helping provide many other community members with the knowledge and know-how of crafting. The growing business now provides a wide variety of products such as apparel, home décor, drinkware, business swag and much more. H2H Designs started attending many farmer's markets throughout the area but now only goes to a few per year as most of the business has reached an overabundance of custom-ordered products.

Deveau said, "I am extremely grateful for all the support my customers continue to give me. I can't wait to work with new customers. I have been able to meet so many new people and forge some great friendships along the way. I am excited to see what else happens as we grow this crazy, fun business and my creations!"

Continued from page 1 riding may not be as attractive as a trail ride, which is an excellent way to keep horses and riders in shape during the winter and a good alternative for having horses spend the winter on a big round bale. An arena also offers the opportunity to do different work than one usually does with a horse. One could think of doing some gymnastics, fine-tuning gait and speed, groundwork or participating in organized events like ranch roping or clinics. Apart from individual or family use, the Victoria Trail Ag Society organizes events like the Trail Challenge. This is a monthly event; the schedule of events and individual area bookings can be found on the Victoria Trail Ag Society website.

Smoky Lake Ag Society celebrates its 50th anniversary

Despite other events on that same evening, a large crowd attended the Smoky Lake Ag Society's 50th anniversary.

A banner shows the important events in the year Smoky Lake Ag Society was founded.

By Irene van der Kloet

On Saturday, October 29, the Smoky Lake Ag Society celebrated its fiftieth anniversary with a day filled with activities in and around the Smoky Lake Complex. The morning kicked off with the traditional farmers' market. Later in the morning, various events started for all ages: A juggler, magician and spiderman entertained the kids, who also had the opportunity to have their faces painted, get glitter tattoos and do crafts. What more could they ask for just before Halloween? Adults enjoyed craft beer and wine tastings with food stations to fill their bellies. The dinner and dance were the absolute cherries on the pie of the celebration. The hall was decorated in an almost magical atmosphere with glitter and balloons. Cooks had done the best they could in presenting a dinner full of options to choose from. The fact that Smoky Lake has a large Ukrainian community was reflected in the original Ukrainian dishes made with the help of the Ukrainian people that recently came to Smoky Lake. In her speech, Mayor Amy Cherniwchan focused on the excellent community service that the Ag Society has provided over the past 50 years. Highlights from the past are an indoor rodeo (1973) and serving as a reception centre during the Fort McMurray fires. The complex hosts functions, like farmers' markets, dances, motivational speakers, bingo, conferences, and family functions but also has a sizeable multifunctional skating rink that is in use in summer and winter. The Ag Society also operates the RV park behind the complex. To say it is a hub in the community is an understatement. The dinner was followed by a dance with the live band Euphoria. Euphoria is an Edmonton-based Ukrainian band that plays many different styles of music like Ukrainian pop, rock and traditional music from Ukraine, and English favourites. They even threw in a few Spanish and Italian songs! The audience obviously enjoyed this rich mix as many made it to the dance floor over and over again. Smoky Lake Ag Society can proudly look back at a successful 50th-anniversary celebration.

Redwater Library November youth programs

By Myrina Carter

As the month changes from October to November, so do some of the programs the Redwater Library has to offer. The Redwater Library is one for the community and its youth, constantly changing what they provide for guests to do while at the library—located in the heart of Redwater at 4915 48 Street and allowing free library cards to any members of the community who wish to obtain one.

November brings regular programs like tabletop games club, allowing youth to make new friends or bring old friends and enjoy some games every Thursday between 3:00 and 5:00 p.m.; every Thursday also includes Parent-Child Mother Goose. Afternoon toddler time can be enjoyed every Wednesday from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., an hour-long break in the day to enjoy some scheduled time with your little one. Drop-in Makerspace is November 18 from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m., where children can join the library in some creative crafts. Science can be explored on November 30 at the After School S.T.E.A.M program from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. November 25 hosts the monthly parented movie night, where all are encouraged to bring a pillow and their favourite blanket to cozy up with while they enjoy a 6:00 p.m. movie.

Fall break running through November 8, 9, and 10, children are encouraged to join the Redwater Library for fun from 12:00 to 2:00 p.m. Youth are being offered the chance to participate in a lego challenge, make candy sushi and make a balance bot.

Join the Redwater Library for this month's craft, Off the Books Craft Evening, and guests get to make candles. The program will cost five dollars; if you would like to attend, guests must register by November 16.

Come check out the Redwater Library programs at 4915 48 Street or inquire about more upcoming programs by phone at 780-942-3464.
