Fundraising, hot dogs, and donations

On July 14, the Redwater Citizens on Patrol group organized a fundraising event where they cooked hotdogs in exchange for donations to cover the expenses of their dedicated volunteers. The food for the event was generously provided by ATB. Additionally, the Redwater Lions kindly lent them their popcorn machine to enhance the event experience.

Simple precautions reduce risk of West Nile virus infection

Alberta Health Services (AHS) is reminding Albertans to take precautions to protect themselves against West Nile virus infection.

Some mosquitoes carry West Nile virus, so it's best to avoid being bitten at all. Whenever participating in outdoor activities, or even just relaxing outside, Albertans can minimize the risk of bites and protect themselves from West Nile virus by taking the following steps:

- Wear a long-sleeved, light-coloured shirt, pants and a hat.
- Consider staying indoors at dawn and dusk when mosquitoes are most active.
- Use a Health Canada-approved insect repellent (e.g., products containing DEET or Icaridin) and follow the product label instructions.

- When considering using products containing DEET:
- For infants younger than six months old, do not use an insect repellent containing DEET. Instead, use a mosquito net when babies are outdoors in a crib or stroller, and try not to be outside when insect activity is high.
- For children six months to two years old, use insect repellent only when there's a high risk of insect bites that can spread infections and diseases. Do not use more than

Chamber revitalizing local trade show

The Redwater Chamber of Commerce is excited to be partnering with the Redwater Ag Society to revitalize the Redwater Trade Show during Discovery Days.

“As part of our new strategic plan building relationships within our service area, we hope that revitalizing the trade show will help showcase businesses that are not only in Redwater but in Thorhild County and Sturgeon County.” Says Chamber President Nicole Krill.

“We approached the Ag Society back in January of this year to soft pitch the idea of a partnership for revitalizing the trade show in conjunction with Discovery Days. Over the next few months, as a group, we thought that combining the trade show and farmer’s market in one area, would showcase vendors to create a full circle of homemade, home based, non-profit organizations, commercial and industry businesses under one roof to show what our areas have to offer.”

The trade show and farmers market will run from 5 – 8:30 pm on Fri Aug 18 and 12 – 4 pm on Sat Aug 19 in the Pembina Place Arena in Redwater.

More information about registering for the trade show can be found on the Redwater Chamber website under the events tab. Registering for the farmer’s market can be done directly through the Ag Society at 780-940-6067.

The Redwater Chamber also built a relationship with the Thorhild Ag Society and donated digital marketing help to the Thorhild Ag Society for their trade show held back in May of this year.

A mixed bag: Crop prices ease while cattle prices set records

By ATB Financial Team

The prices farmers and ranchers receive for their crops and animals are just one link in an often long chain between primary production and the food we purchase from grocery stores and restaurants.

Prices at the start of the chain, however, still have an impact on the retail end, so it is good news for consumers (less so for farmers) that major crop prices in Alberta (and around the world) have been on a downward trend from the highs seen last year.

Wheat prices in Alberta were 21% lower in May than 12 months earlier while canola prices were down by 26%. Barley prices have not come down as much, but were still 2% below where they were in May 2022. Lower prices for these crops were also the norm in the other provinces.

It takes time for recent prices to work their way through the food production system, and wheat, canola and barley are only slices of a much larger food pie, but the downward trend will reduce at least some of the upward pressure on food prices. (The year-over-year inflation rate for food purchased from grocery stores and restaurants in Canada was running at 8.3% in June.)

Working in the opposite direction is the collapse of the deal that was allowing for the safe shipment of Ukrainian grain via the Black Sea that was in place since last summer. Russia let the deal expire a few days ago and already global wheat and corn prices have spiked. If the deal remains off, the downward trend in crop prices noted above is likely to reverse in the months ahead.

It's a different story for cattle with North American prices reaching record highs in May due to smaller herds and robust demand.

In Alberta, the price of cattle for slaughter and cattle for feeding was 38% and 49% higher, respectively, in May 2023 than the year before. In keeping with this upward trend, year-over-year beef prices at Alberta grocery stores were 13% higher in June and are poised to keep rising in the months ahead.

After being bitten by a mosquito carrying West Nile virus, people can develop West Nile non-neurological syndrome (formerly known as West Nile fever) or the more serious West Nile neurological syndrome. Symptoms of non-neurological syndrome can include fever, chills, nausea, vomiting, fatigue, skin rash, swollen glands and headache. For people who develop neurological syndrome, symptoms can be more severe, and include tremors, drowsiness, confusion, swallowing problems, high fever, unconsciousness, paralysis and even death.

The first evidence of West Nile virus in Alberta was confirmed in 2003. From 2003 to 2021, 541 cases of West Nile virus were confirmed in Alberta, many of which were acquired here in the province and not travel-related. Of all these cases, 460 were non-neurological syndrome.

Albertans can learn more about West Nile virus and ways to keep safe by visiting www.fightthebite.info or calling Health Link at 811.

Old H.A. Kostash school to be demolished?

The main building of the old H.A.Kostash school. Smoky Lake lobbied hard for a new school, which was just completed. Aspen View School Division insists on demolition of the entire old school on August 1st.

By Irene van der Kloet

The new, ultra-modern H.A. Kostash school in Smoky Lake is completed and will be open as of September. A discussion has arisen in Smoky Lake about what to do with the old school. The old school consists of two buildings: the main school building and a separate gym, which was added to the premises in 1987. All buildings are owned by Aspen View School Division, which has decided that these buildings should be demolished, but this has led to resistance as local entrepreneurs Brian and Leesa Jones want to build an art gallery there. Initially, their focus was on the small gym. "Why demolish a perfectly good building if it can be used for something else?" Brian says. Brian and Leesa have written a proposal to the town and county for the building to become an art gallery. "There are so many artists here in the community and surrounding area; having an art gallery here would be a great attraction. I have spoken with the school's art teacher; she sounds interested as the kids could learn from the artists". Local artists have written letters of support, and a petition-signing action has started in town. Aspen View School Division insists, and the demolition of the entire complex (gym and main building) remains scheduled for August 1st. On June 20, the Town of Smoky Lake issued a press release regarding the gym, saying that possibilities for repurposing the gym have been examined and that a discussion was opened to the public in November 2022 for business opportunities. No one came forward. In April, some residents came forward with interest in the gym, and consequently, the town discussed a change order with Alberta Infrastructure. In May, Aspen View informed the town of their decision to go ahead with the complete demolition of all buildings after discussing the matter with Alberta Infrastructure. Brian and Leesa kept lobbying, now for the main building. The Town of Smoky Lake discussed the case with the county. A motion was made that "the Town of Smoky Lake support Smoky Lake County in a joint effort to delay demolition of the original H.A.Kostash School for two months to Alberta Infrastructure, with the understanding there will be no financial implications to the Town;" The motion goes on to say that, if successful in the stay order, - that town and county partner on future development opportunities. The reaction of Reeve Halisky leaves no room for questions." The school is in the town, and the county will not support any endeavours that will cost its taxpayers money." Mayor Cherniwchan of Smoky Lake commented: "In the beginning, there were no takers. At the last hour, people requested to keep it. But we find as a council that it cannot cost the taxpayers any money. Aspen View owns the building. We have asked for a delay in demolition from Alberta Infrastructure. They have the last call." Although there has been no cost to taxpayers in that respect because nothing has been done so far, the hours of discussion among councilors about the school while Aspen View had "demolition" scheduled from the commencement of construction of the new school, have already added to taxpayers' costs. The demolition date is close: August 1. To be continued.

The gym of the old H.A.Kostash school. This building is certain to be demolished on August 1.

Mason Beudet enjoys a hotdog at Newbrook Library on National Hot Dog Day

Dog days of summer

By Brandie Majeau

Love them or hate them, hotdogs have instilled themselves as a summer favourite in most households. Though the origins of hotdogs have been largely debated, it is believed that German immigrants brought not only their heritage with them to a new world but also the original version of a sausage that evolved itself into the hotdogs we enjoy today. Steamed, grilled, boiled or roasted over an open fire, they have now become a staple for barbecues and camping trips. It is this passion, found all over the planet that has led to National Hot Dog Day. Celebrated in communities around the world, this unique celebration is held annually on the third Wednesday of July. The earliest known Hot Dog Day was held in 1972 in New York. National Hot Dog Day is what you make of it. Next year, indulge in this treat at many eateries that create their own special twist on the traditional. Take in a baseball game and partake in the conventional “franks” handed down the rows. Experience a hotdog eating contest. Have your own hotdog barbeque celebration in your backyard. There have also been other activities that accompany National Hot Dog Day, such as wiener dog races and other silly events that often donate their profits to charities. For Newbrook Public Library, National Hot Dog Day was enjoyed in a simple way. Children and their parents arrived for a morning of story time and crafts, followed by a lunch of hotdogs, blueberry cake and iced tea. The little faces smeared with ketchup and mustard marked the event as a success.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Take Notice that pursuant to Section 70 of the Municipal Government Act R.S.A 2000, Chapter M-26, if a municipality proposes to transfer or grant an estate of interest in a land for less than its market value the proposal must be advertised.

The land is Pt. SE 33-60-20-W4 and is 2.0 acres of vacant agriculture land. Land is assessed at $1,480.00. Council is proposing to sell the land for $750.00 plus gst.

Anyone wishing to file a petition regarding the proposed resolution must do so in compliance with the requirements contained in sections 222 – 226 and 231 of the Municipal Government Act, R.S.A. 2000, c.M-26.

- A petition must be filed with the Chief Administrative Officer of Thorhild County within 60 days after the last date on which the proposed bylaw is advertised.
- Only the electors of a municipality are eligible to be petitioners.
- To be sufficient the petition must be signed by electors of the municipality equal in number of at least 10% of the population.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 - April 20)

Don't rush in and act combative this week, Aries. Take a more delicate approach to convince others to see things your way. As the saying goes, "You catch more flies with honey than with vinegar."

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21)

Are you feeling like you may want to be a wellness warrior of late, Taurus? Start by taking inventory of the foods in your home and making some healthier changes.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

Gemini, if you are looking to make a few new friends, ask others to connect you with like-minded individuals. You never know who you might meet until you give it a try.

CANCER (June 22 - July 22)

Cancer, if a delicate issue has been troubling you, reach out to someone you can trust and begin to talk things through. You will likely feel better just getting things out.

LEO (July 23 - August 23)

Leo, are you ready to take your project to the next level? Brainstorm with a coworker about the best way to get ahead and make a mark with this endeavor.

VIRGO (August 24 - September 22)

It could be time for a move and you just aren't ready to admit it, Virgo. You may have gotten comfortable in one place, but a move could prove the right decision.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 23)

Libra, there are a lot of ideas swimming around in your head. You may need to put some things down on paper to see what really might be worth doing in the days to come.

SCORPIO (October 24 - November 22)

Connect with a friend or even your partner for an intimate dinner this week. You've been moving in different circles and it's time to get on the same page.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 21)

Invite people to stop by and cheer you up, Sagittarius. You've been going through a rough patch and there's nothing like happy faces and new perspectives to bring about a smile.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 20)

Capricorn, be sure to check your bank account pretty regularly; otherwise, you may lose track of spending and get yourself into a financial mess that could be tough to get out of.

AQUARIUS (January 21 - February 18)

Aquarius, you may be your own worst enemy this week, especially as it pertains to thinking that someone may be trying to cause trouble with you at work. Get the facts before acting.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)

Pisces, there is a process to everything. Remain patient and stay the course no matter how excited you are. Rest assured that things will work out if you can hang in there.

Break-ins at the golf course

By Valerie Winger

The recent incident at the golf course in Redwater has left the volunteer directors, who manage the course's overall operation, deeply concerned. In the early hours of the morning, a theft occurred, resulting in the disappearance of 21-hole flags and sponsor signs. The motive behind this act remains unknown, and the directors are determined to find the responsible individuals or have the stolen items returned.

Being a non-profit society registered under the Societies Act of Alberta, the golf course operates on self-funding without receiving any financial support from the Town of Redwater or Sturgeon County. Therefore, the loss of the hole flags and sponsor signs is a significant blow, as the replacement cost is an unexpected expense. The absence of hole flags presents a challenge for golfers, especially those unfamiliar with the course, as it hinders their ability to locate the greens, particularly on dogleg holes. Additionally, replacing the sponsor signs poses another financial burden, without any assurance of reimbursement from the sponsors.

This is not the first incident to hit the golf course community; several break-ins have resulted in the loss of equipment and tools, further straining their resources. The cumulative impact of these incidents affects the course's ability to maintain and enhance its facilities, which are primarily intended to benefit the residents of Redwater, the surrounding areas, as well as junior and senior golfers from all over.

The golf course prides itself on being an inclusive and family-friendly establishment, striving to provide a great experience for all golfers, while actively supporting junior and school team golfers. However, there are times when financial constraints make it challenging to maintain the course to the desired standards, let alone undertake improvements. Such unexpected expenses, like those caused by the theft, have a profound effect on their operations and hamper their commitment to serve the community.

The volunteer directors are now seeking the support of the public and authorities to recover the stolen items and hold those responsible accountable. They are open to collaborating with the local paper either by providing an article detailing the incident or participating in an interview to raise awareness about the situation. Any information from the community that could help apprehend the culprits or recover the stolen items would be highly appreciated.

Overall, the directors remain dedicated to upholding the golf course's mission to provide a valuable recreational space for the community, despite facing financial challenges. They hope that with the support of the public and appropriate measures taken by law enforcement, the stolen items will be retrieved, and the perpetrators will be brought to justice.

The Redwater golf course experienced an outpouring of support and solidarity from the community in the wake of overnight thefts that affected the establishment. The incidents prompted the community to rally together, showing their love and care for the golf course.

Still working hard after fire damage in Redwater

In the aftermath of recent fires in Redwater, a dedicated team of workers has been tirelessly working to restore the affected areas. One of their ongoing projects involves the replacement of the gas main. A considerable amount of effort and hard work has been invested in fixing the damages caused by the fires. Currently, the back alley behind the location of the fire incident is completely dug up as part of the gas main replacement process. The workers are committed to ensuring the safety and proper functioning of the gas infrastructure in the area, as they continue their meticulous efforts to rebuild and revitalize the community.

John and his dedicated crew, known affectionately as the "Youts," have been hard at work installing the new Sponsor signs at the golf course. The community is extending their heartfelt gratitude to Jeff and all the generous donors who contributed to the fund, as well as to Ideal Signs for their prompt assistance and donation of the signs. Despite the recent theft of signs, the support from various individuals and businesses has been heartening. To aid in resolving the theft case, the golf course encourages anyone with information to come forward and contact either Crime Stoppers or the Redwater RCMP. The collective effort of the community in addressing the situation demonstrates the strong bond and commitment they have towards the golf course and its well-being.

Hemp fields on the horizon

Hemp crops around Thorhild County

By Brandie Majeau

Whether you recognize it by sight or by smell as you pass by, hemp fields are still a crop that catches attention. While they have been on the rise in Alberta in the past few years, many people are still surprised by their increasing presence in central Alberta. Small communities that were known largely for canola, wheat, barley, and oats are now finding many fellow farmers adding hemp to their field rotation. Why hemp?

With the legalization of cannabis, the door was opened for farmers to begin harvesting hemp flowers for CBD oil. This is a prevalent and well-known topic among consumers. However, there is a larger industrial base and demand for its cultivation and harvest. The products for industrial hemp range from paper, textiles, fabrics, home furnishings, construction materials, animal feed and bedding. The oil is also used in many products, such as cosmetics and other beauty and wellness goods. The diverse uses make the hemp crop so desirable. Second only to bamboo as a land-grown crop, hemp provides a huge biomass yield. As we enter the uncertainty of climate change, plants with these unique properties and such a variety of uses are sought after in the industry.

So why Alberta? While hemp has been growing in southern Alberta for decades, many farmers in central Alberta are adding it to their rotation. It is thought that the hemp crop can provide a break in traditional crop rotations to manage disease and pests. There is also the added bonus that hemp can survive in dry conditions based on its root system, which grows deep in the soil, 45-90 cm. The seedlings and mature plants also have the ability to tolerate light frost, and hemp can be seeded up until the end of June. The plants are known for their short growth periods. This suits our Alberta growing season. We generally have plenty of summer sunshine, which helps the hemp plant thrive, and enough time to allow it to do so in our unpredictable Alberta weather and growing season.

It is intriguing to watch the growth and development of industrial hemp, not only in Canada but in our own backyard. The Alberta Hemp Alliance states on its webpage, "Hemp is the second fastest growing plant on the planet, is a superfood, can produce 50 000 products, is biodegradable, sequesters CO2 and CH4 and produces superior manufactured products. Hemp will play a key role in building a green and diverse economy." In anticipation of the harvest, feel free to birdwatch. Since the mature hemp seed pods shatter easily and hemp is a great bird seed, the Government of Alberta's Guide to Growing Hemp in Alberta states that when birds are noticed, harvest should begin.

Keep carbon monoxide safety top of mind

(NC) Carbon monoxide, commonly known as CO, is a colourless, odourless gas, and it can cause serious injury or even death. To help protect you and your family against this “silent killer,” here are some important safety tips to follow.

Know the CO basics. Carbon monoxide can be emitted by fuel-burning appliances, such as ovens, furnaces and boilers, and it is impossible to detect without a working CO alarm. Take extra caution during colder months as more use of home heating systems may heighten the risk of a CO leak.

Be aware of the warning signs. Symptoms of CO poisoning can include headache, nausea, dizziness, weakness, chest pain and vomiting, mimicking those of the common cold or the flu. If you suddenly experience any of these symptoms, exit the building and call 911 immediately.

Know what to do in a power outage. If power goes out, portable generators must only be used outside, at least seven metres from the home. Never use them inside the home, in a garage or in any confined area that can allow CO to collect. Additionally, be careful to always follow operating instructions closely.

Install alarms. Fire and home safety experts from the National Fire Protection Association recommend installing CO alarms, like the First Alert Plug-In CO Alarm with battery back-up, on every floor of your home, including the basement. They should be in or near every sleeping area to ensure your whole home is protected. Remember to test your CO alarms regularly and, if using battery-powered alarms, replace the batteries at least every six months.

Have fuel-burning appliances inspected regularly. Arrange for an annual professional inspection of all fuel-burning appliances such as furnaces, stoves, fireplaces, clothes dryers and water heaters to help prevent a possible CO leak in your home.

Learn more CO safety tips and browse carbon monoxide alarms at firstalert.ca.
