

Understanding and addressing teen driver safety

By Brandie Majeau

National Teen Driver Safety Week took place from October 15 to 21. When Cyndi Nuemiller from AHS Health Promotions in Westlock approached the Thorhild County Family Centre about hosting a teen driver safety program, Tammy Kuefler jumped at the opportunity. On October 19, in partnership with protective services and the Redwater RCMP detachment, families were given the opportunity to engage with professionals, RCMP, and Thorhild County Enforcement Services to understand the effects of driving behaviors in youth. In an opening statement, participants were provided with the following information: "Youth and young adults are killed in road crashes at a higher rate than any other age group under 75 years old. With road crashes being the third-leading cause of death among people aged 15 to 24 years old, this age demographic has the highest rate of involvement in fatal collisions per 100,000 licensed drivers."

Through a variety of presentations, games, and YouTube videos, teens and their family members

By Brandie Majeau

The CFCW Critters Hockey team is celebrating their 30th anniversary! Established in the fall of 1993, the Critters played their first-ever game in Thorhild. When Alex Torguson, one of the twelve directors for the Thorhild Ag Society, came across a program from the original game held all those years ago, he reached out to Marty Stevens with 840 CFCW and challenged them to a friendly rematch. The Critters arrive on a team bus and are comprised of CFCW staff and friends of the radio station. Communities create their own hockey teams and organize localized fun around the main event. Throughout its thirty years, the Critters Hockey team has helped local communities raise over 1.2 million dollars. 840 CFCW radio hosts these games as charitable events and does not receive a fee for their participation. All funds raised by the event stay in the hosting community.

On November 30, 2023, at 7 pm, the Thorhild Agricultural Society will be hosting the Critters and creating an experience designed to draw in the entire community and surrounding areas. The goal is to get as many people and businesses involved as possible. Torguson repeatedly commented on the game as a community event. In preparation for the game, a coloring contest was held, asking students to participate in creating a design that would be used on the 30th-anniversary hockey jerseys for the community team. Thorhild County council chose the winner, and additional prizes were awarded to winners in each grade. The Thorhild Ag Society has also reached out to past players and is hoping to involve participants from the original match.

The event will include a pregame fundraiser supper by the Thorhild graduating class, and Sandra and Roman Sopotytk. All proceeds from the supper will go towards their graduation ceremony. The Critters game will be an event for the entire family! Interact with the Critters team as they create an atmosphere of fun and entertainment. Meet a friend for a visit at the onsite beer gardens. A paper airplane toss will be held during intermission. The airplane toss will encourage on-site paper airplanes to be made and then thrown at prizes on the ice during intermission; those landing closest to the prize win them! This exciting event will conclude with a fantastic fireworks display. Mark the calendars for November 30 and support this 30th-anniversary occasion. The proceeds of the game and fundraising proceeds will be used for renovations and updates to the Thorhild Arena. The entrance fee is $5, and admission for children under three is free. Fifty/Fifty tickets are also currently available online. The Thorhild Community Team has already raised over $10,000 for this event.

CN Station makeover

By Irene van der Kloet

Over the past few months, workers have been very busy giving the CN Station in Smoky Lake a complete makeover. This makeover included replacing the roof and painting the building in colours that did right to the original destination of the building. The roof makeover was addressed first, and for a long time, scaffolding was set up as the shingles on the roof needed to be removed before new shingles could be put on. Every effort was made to give the building back the face it had when it was first built. Once the roof was completed, workers started painting. Painting is, without exception, a time-consuming, tedious job which they managed to finish just before the temperatures dropped. The building dates back to 1919 when Smoky Lake was a buzz and trains regularly arrived. The building still breathes that atmosphere from those years: visitors enter through a wooden door, which gives way to the ticket-master's wicket on the left. In the wintertime, a pot belly stove would heat the room, but these days, the building is closed in the wintertime. It is now used as a visitor's centre where visitors can learn about Smoky Lake's history by checking out the telegraph, the log book and the baggage room. There is a substantial photo collection of the old days, and it is worth your time. Though the railroad is long gone, the Iron Horse Trail runs right by the building and with a bit of imagination, visitors can imagine the train approaching. The Smoky Lake County Heritage Board did an outstanding job with this makeover, an asset to the downtown core and an attraction for visitors.

The CN Station in Smoky Lake is an attractive stop for visitors, particularly after the makeover with a new roof and new paint.

became aware of the dangers of distractions while driving, including the types of distractions. Comparisons were made, indicating that a fighter pilot is required to keep track of approximately 300 items during a regular non-combat mission, while the average driver needs to focus on 3000 items during rush-hour traffic. Drivers were encouraged to be more aware of their surroundings, the implications of higher speed, which equals higher risk, the dangers of driving while impaired (alcohol, cannabis, etc.), how drivers are tested for impairments, and seatbelts; the majority of fatalities involve individuals not wearing their seatbelts. Presentations also addressed the problem of cell phone distractions in the vehicle while driving, with text messaging being a major interference, as well as the viewing or creation of social media content while driving.

The event received great feedback, with parents even acknowledging that they need to set a better example for their young drivers and do better to avoid distractions. One youth in attendance was asked what he would do if he were a passenger in a vehicle with a distracted driver and immediately replied, "Hey! Eyes on the road there, bud." The program opened the door to a lot of questions, and answers were provided. Due to its success, there is a possibility that this will become an annual event.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Remembrance Day in Canada Honouring the sacrifices of the brave

Remembrance Day, observed on November 11th each year in Canada, is a solemn occasion dedicated to paying tribute to the brave men and women who have served and continue to serve the country in times of war, conflict, and peace. This day holds significant importance as it commemorates the armistice signed in 1918, ending World War I, and honours the sacrifices made by Canadian soldiers throughout history.

The Poppy: A Symbol of Remembrance
The red poppy flower has become a powerful symbol of Remembrance Day in Canada. Inspired by the famous war poem "In Flanders Fields" by Lieutenant Colonel John McCrae, the Royal British Legion introduced the red poppy as a symbol of remembrance. Canadians proudly wear poppy pins on their lapels throughout the lead-up to Remembrance Day to honour those who have lost their lives in military service. The poppy serves as a poignant reminder of the sacrifices made and the need for peace.

Commemorative Ceremonies

Across Canada, Remembrance Day is marked by various commemorative ceremonies, the most prominent of which takes place at the National War Memorial in Ottawa. The ceremony in Ottawa is attended by dignitaries, veterans, and the general public. It includes the laying of wreaths, the playing of the Last Post, and a moment of silence at 11:00 AM, the exact time the armistice was signed. Similar ceremonies are held in cities, towns, and villages throughout the country.

member the many civilians who have been affected by war and conflict. Schools often play a significant role in educating the younger generation about the importance of Remembrance Day, ensuring that the legacy of those who served lives on.

The Legacy of Peacekeeping

In addition to remembering the world wars, Remembrance Day also pays tribute to the more recent peacekeeping efforts undertaken by Canadian forces. Canada has a long history of contributing to international peace and security, and this legacy continues to this day. Canadian soldiers have participated in missions around the world to help prevent and resolve conflicts, furthering the cause of peace and stability.

While Remembrance Day serves as a day of reflection and solemn remembrance, it also reinforces the message that peace is a precious gift, and we should all strive to work together to prevent future conflicts. Through education, remembrance, and the wearing of the red poppy, Canadians ensure that the sacrifices of the past are never forgotten and that the pursuit of peace remains a central goal for the nation.

A Time for Reflection

Remembrance Day is a time for Canadians to reflect on the sacrifices made by members of the Canadian Armed Forces and to express gratitude for their service. It is also an opportunity to re-

Alberta Government supports Alberta farmers and ranchers

Agricultural Financial Services (AFSC) is available to Alberta farmers and agribusinesses and can be found online at www.afsc.ca. For further information on support for Alberta's producers or details on grants, programs, and public engagement, please visit the Government of Alberta website at www.alberta.ca.

By Brandie Majeau

Minister of Agriculture and Irrigation, RJ Sigurdson, announced at a virtual media roundtable on October 30 that applications for the 2023 Canada-Alberta Drought Livestock Assistance initiative are now open. Minister Sigurdson's statement expanded on the challenging growing season and the areas most affected by dry conditions. The Alberta and federal governments are supporting livestock producers with $165 million in AgriRecovery Response. The minimum requirements and eligibility for livestock farmers in Alberta were also discussed. As a result of the recent droughts, many producers may also be eligible for the Alberta Water Pumping Program.

Minister Sigurdson also explained the Agri-processing incentive tax credit, which offers a 12% non-refundable capital investment tax credit. This tax credit is directed at corporations seeking investment or expansion opportunities for agri-processing facilities in Alberta. Minister RJ Sigurdson also discussed his recently announced $2.5 million annual capital funding directed to Alberta's Agriculture Societies. These funds may be used for Ag Societies to repair and upgrade facilities, and as stated by Minister Sigurdson, "ensure that ag societies can continue enhancing Alberta's rural communities."

Smoky Lake RCMP investigating serious collision

On Oct. 26, 2023, at approximately 7:27 p.m., Smoky Lake RCMP responded to a serious motor vehicle collision involving a vehicle and a large heavy metal object.

After further investigation, the large heavy object was identified as an anchor drive case, estimated to weigh around 800 lbs had fallen off the flat deck of the Semi-truck onto the roadway. The following vehicle then collided with the large object causing significant front-end damage and the driver to lose control of their vehicle.

The Semi-truck was last seen heading West bound on Highway 28 near Vilna.

As Smoky Lake continue to investigate this occurrence, anyone with information regarding this incident or is able to identify the Semi-truck are asked to contact the Smoky Lake RCMP at 780-656-3691. If you wish to remain anonymous, you can contact Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477 (TIPS), online at www.P3Tips.com or by using the "P3 Tips" app available through the Apple App or Google Play Store.

Nearing technical recession territory: Canada's GDP flat again in August

The ATB Financial Team

The latest industry-based GDP estimates from Statistics Canada provide further evidence that the Bank of Canada's interest rate increases are slowing the economy.

National economic output in August was flat compared to July (which was also flat) and the preliminary estimate for September is for another month of no growth.

Looking ahead, there is a chance that GDP could be slightly negative in both the second and the third quarter. We won't know for sure until Statistics Canada releases quarterly expenditure-based GDP estimates at the end of this month.

Two quarters of negative growth add up to a technical recession. However, the CD Howe Institute Business Cycle Council argues we should consider other factors like job losses and unemployment before labeling a slowdown as a recession. The Council, for example, determined that the two quarters of negative growth in early 2015 following the oil price decline did not qualify as a Canadian recession.

Whether it turns out to be a case of mild technical recession or just tepid growth, the weak performance could be enough to convince the Bank of Canada that additional interest rate hikes are not needed to bring inflation back to target. The latest GDP data support our current expectation that the Bank will not need to raise rates again.

Monthly GDP statistics at the provincial level are not available, but output of the national oil and gas extraction subsector rose in August by 1%, its fourth straight increase following spring wildfire and maintenance disruptions. This points to Alberta getting a summer boost from the energy industry even as other factors weighed on economic activity.
